CABLE LETTER.

The Queen's Speech Submitted for Her Majesty's Approval—Government's Hands Somewhat Tied.

Excitement Over an Attempt to Remove a Judge—Affairs in Africa.

LONDON, Feb. 2.—The cabinet have held three meetings this week with the result of finishing the Queen's speech. The document was taken to Osborne to-day by the Marquis of Ripon, secretary of state for the colonies, and Lord Carrington, the lord chamberlain of the Queen's household, for the purpose of obtaining the approval of Her Majesty thereto. It is now known that the ministers have decided that if the ministry must fall it will fall fighting; consequently the speech will contain references to all the reforms of which the ministerial party approves, without regard to whether or not they are likely to pass during the coming session. Even though the debate on the address in reply to the Queen's speech, it is absolutely certain that they will not be able to pass anything more than the Welsh church bills and the Irish land measure in the course of one session. Under these circumstances the supporters of the local veto measure and the questions of the payment of salaries to members of parliament, registration reform and the unification of London, must content themselves with the government's approval of their pet schemes; but with what grace they will do so remains to be seen. The main question now is how the government will fare during the debate on the address in reply to the speech from the throne. If the Redmondite members adhere to their resolve to oppose the government it is quite likely that the ministry will be defeated. The Liberal absentees include Mr. Florence O'Driscoll, member for South Monaghan, who is in Australia; Mr. Alfred Webb, member for West Waterford, who is in India, and W. Randall Cremer, member for the Haggerston division of Shoreditch, who is in America. Besides these, there are two others who are confined to their beds by illness and it is not at all likely that any one of them can occupy his seat at the opening of parliament on Tuesday. Before the beginning of the debate on the address the Conservatives threaten to move to expunge the resolution censuring the London Times for calling the Irish members mercenaries. This action is to be taken upon the ground that it is now stated that Mr. Justin McCarthy, the Irish leader, accepted a check for £2,000 from Lord Tweedmouth, but the motion will not likely be insisted upon inasmuch as even the Tories condemn the systematic and

THE GOVERNMENT SHOULD SURVIVE

UNGENEROUS ATTACKS OF THE "TIMES" upon the Irish members personally. The real fight in the debate on the address will be over the government's anti-landlord resolution, and it is understood that Mr. Balfour intends to demand that the government produce the resolution at once on the ground that the country is entitled to know exactly what it is, since the government have already stated that they have decided to bring it forward. Now that Sir Charles Dilke and Mr. Labouchere say that they will support a motion to lay the resolution upon the table there is the possibility of an immediate dissolution. The adverse attitude of these gentlemen, together with that of the Redmondites, and the absence of the five members mentioned would defeat the government, but the other amendments to the address are not likely to result in successful divisions. These amendments include an amendment by Kier Hardie, Socialist, in regard to providing relief; an amendment by Mr. Stevenson, Liberal, calling attention to the Armenian atrocities and demanding British action thereon; an amendment by the Redmondites demanding the release of the Irish political prisoners, and one by the McCarthyites describing the distress among the people in the West of Ireland. Earl Rosebery and Earl Kimberley have had profound conferences of late as to how pressure could be brought upon Turkey through the Armenian situation, but the death of M. de Giers, the Russian foreign minister, has caused the postponement of possible action in the matter for the present. An attempt has been made during the past week by eminent politicians and financiers to procure the removal of Justice Sir Roland Vaughan Williams from the Queen's Bench division High Court of Justice, to another court, and the movement has excited

THE GREATEST INDIGNATION. Judge Williams' court deals with the winding up of companies and adjudges whether their directors have been culpable in any way, or whether there have been any fraudulent transactions in connection with the administration of the affairs of such organizations. It was Judge Williams' censuring of Mr. Mundella in his capacity of a director of the New Zealand Loan Company that forced that gentleman to resign his position in the cabinet as president of the board of trade. Judge Williams is popular because he is severe in his methods, hunts out swindlers and denounces those who cause them, no matter how eminent the culprits may be. In view of the several impending cases, presumably involving persons in high places, it is attempted to secure the transfer of Judge Williams from the Court of Queen's Bench. The storm of indignation which the attempt has aroused has compelled the Lord Chancellor to couple his proposed removal of the judge with a promise to re-instate him after a while. This has only added fuel to the fire. The affair opens up a grave scandal. It appears that Baron Herschel, Lord Chancellor, wrote to Justice Williams a short time ago asking him to withdraw some severe comments which the judge made upon the conduct of Mr. Mundella in connection with the New Zealand Co. This the judge refused to do, and Lord Herschel repeated his request, whereupon Judge Williams threatened to publish Baron Herschel's letters if the matter were pressed any further. It is

A MATTER OF NOTORIETY that prominent board of trade officials are seeking to oust Judge Williams with a view of hushing up cases in which influential persons are implicated. Meanwhile persons of this character have heaved a sigh of relief upon learning that the English detective who went to Argentine to secure the extradition of Jabez Spencer Balfour, the absconding promoter of the Liberator building society, has left Buenos Ayres in despair of getting Jabez into his clutches. The trial of Balfour would involve some well known London men, who hail with joy the failure of the authorities to bring the absconder to justice.

Mr. Cecil Rhodes, the Premier of Cape Colony was sworn in as a member of the Queen's Privy Council at Osborne to-day. Mr. Rhodes afterwards took luncheon with the Queen, and a short time later went on board the steamer Athenian on his return to Cape Colony. In the meantime, the Delagoa Bay question becomes acute. Germany recently notified England that the Kaiser's government would not allow her to acquire the bay and its surrounding territory. Portugal has already refused to sell the bay to Mr. Rhodes, or to the Cape Colony, or to the British government, but is willing to sell it to a company formed of Dutch and German capitalists. It is rumored that the Rothschilds and Mr. Rhodes are projecting a which will require a capital of many millions of pounds. The scheme is said to include the combination of all the gold mines in Witwatersrand under the control of one company.

The weather during the week has been severe throughout England. Only one mail has been able to leave Calcutta for ten days, and many rural postmen have been snowed up and chilled into insensibility. The cold in London has been much more severe than has been experienced for many years and the hungry unemployed workers have suffered greatly.

Dispatches from Rome state upon Vatican authority that the Pope is now making arrangements to assign special faculties to the apostolic delegates at Washington, making a sort of ecclesiastical tribunal to adjudicate the differences of Catholics and deal with priests and bishops as regards ecclesiastical discipline.

Princesses Victoria and Maude of Wales are to return to society, from which they have been absent for more than a year. They will be present at a reception given by the Countess of Spencer at the Admiralty on February 4. The time of the Princess of Wales' return home is still indefinite. She has not been in England since she left a week or so before the death of the Czar Alexander. It is expected that the Czar Nicholas and the Czarina will visit England in June. They will reside in Buckingham Palace during their stay as the guests of the Queen, and will be present at a series of magnificent State functions which will be given in their honor.

Manitoba Legislature Called for Feb. 14.—Frozen to Death—Mr. Connors' Election.

WINNIPEG, Feb. 2.—(Special)—The official announcement is made in to-day's Manitoba Gazette of the opening of the legislature on Thursday, February 14. It is expected the session will be very short.

A Swede named Johnson, employed by the C.P.R. at Rat Portage, was found by the section foreman frozen to death this morning. Michael Dwyer has just arrived at Rat Portage from Rainy river, bringing a portion of the election returns increasing Connors' majority to 267, with prospects of a still larger increase.

CAPTURE OF WEI-HAI-WEI.

A Large Number of Its Defenders Killed During the Bombardment.

Runaway Chinese Soldiers Captured and Beheaded—Cold Weather Interferes With Operations.

LONDON, Feb. 2.—The Globe publishes a dispatch from Hiroshima giving the official dispatches describing the capture of the forts at Wei Hai Wei, and a dispatch from Chefoo also furnishing details of the engagement. The exploding shells in the forts which were blown up killed a large number of the Chinese defenders of those works. The Japanese cruisers Naniwa, Akitushima and Katsura bombarded the eastern forts for hours, but neither these nor the city of Wei-Hai-Wei had been occupied by the Japanese up to the date of the dispatches of February 2. The Chinese authorities at Chefoo are arresting and beheading the soldiers who ran away from Wei Hai Wei. The extreme cold weather prevents further operations at Wei Hai Wei at present.

TOKIO, Feb. 2.—The Japanese chamber will resolve unanimously to approve all the war expenditures regardless of amount or date.

THE LOST ELBE.

News of the Disaster Has Spread all Over Germany Causing Intense Excitement.

The Kaiser's Recognition of the Assistance Rendered on the British Coast.

BERLIN, Feb. 2.—News of the Elbe disaster has spread over all parts of the Empire. Many efforts are being made to collect funds for the families of the lost sailors. The most important calls for subscriptions have been issued by the officials of the relief committee, whose chairman is Secretary von Boetticher, of the Hamburg-American Company, whose list has been opened in Hamburg.

On Friday the North German Lloyd shares fell four points on the bourse, and even Hamburg-American suffered. On the North German Lloyd's books the Elbe was valued at 1,250,000 marks. She was insured in the companies fund which in 1893 amounted to 5,658,932 marks.

LONDON, Feb. 2.—Mr. H. S. Foster, member of parliament for the Lowestoft division of Suffolk, acting in behalf of his constituents, has sent a telegraphic message to the Emperor of Germany expressing sympathy on the loss of the Elbe. The Emperor in reply sent a message thanking Mr. Foster, concluding as follows: "I am convinced that the inhabitants of the British ports have done and will do all in their power for the poor survivors, of whom there is unhappily so small a number."

HAWAIIAN MATTERS.

Reported Arrest of Ex-Queen Liliuokalani Not Confirmed—What Mr. Thurston Says.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Mr. Loring Thurston, Hawaiian minister, when seen by a United Press representative and informed of the reported arrest of Queen Liliuokalani for complicity in the latest abortive Wilcox insurrection, expressed no particular surprise, but said he had no advice from his government about the matter. Such a contingency was not mentioned in the mail from Honolulu read by Mr. Thurston since the outbreak; but one of the Honolulu newspapers had a significant paragraph stating that on the day hostilities began the ex-Queen had gone to the residence of Sam Nowlin, at Pearl Harbor, about fifteen miles away. As Nowlin was the principal lieutenant of Wilcox it is presumed that Liliuokalani knew the plans of the revolutionists and had gone to Nowlin's house to be out of harm's way when the fighting began. Speaking of the ex-Queen, Mr. Thurston said that he was confident that his government would not have caused her arrest unless it had ample evidence of her complicity in the Wilcox-Nowlin plot. His belief in this regard came from the knowledge that the ex-Queen had been given every freedom and had been made to understand that she was not to be restricted so long as she did not interfere with the peace and good order of the republic. It was the intention of the government not to interfere with her in any way, nor with any of the royalists, in the hope that such a course would help to produce a better feeling on the islands.

NEWS OF THE PROVINCE.

The Empress of Japan to Sail on Monday—Meeting of Vancouver Liberals.

Fatal Explosion at Nanaimo—Mining Development—Restoration of the Coquitlam Bridge.

(Special to the Colonist.)

VANCOUVER.

VANCOUVER, Feb. 2.—The robbery of chicken coops continues to an alarming extent, many valuable collections having been lost the past two months. Yesterday morning Mr. Westzel lost eighteen fowls, all fancy bred.

By resolution the Trades and Labor Council has condemned the principle of businessmen sending out of their own town for articles which might be obtained here equally well.

The Empress of Japan will sail on Monday after the arrival of the Pacific express. She will have 2,400 tons of cargo consisting of flour and cotton goods. The Utopia left Seattle on Friday with 9,000 sacks of flour and 25 tons of general merchandise, which will form part of her cargo.

The Liberals met at Vancouver to-day. All the cities and most of the municipalities were represented. Senator McInnis, Victoria, occupied the chair. It was decided that the executive meet at the Driad hotel, Victoria, on Saturday night, to decide definitely on a line of action at the forthcoming general elections.

Two men whose names are not known here, travelling around the world without money and walking across the continent from Montreal to Vancouver, left Ashcroft this morning and will arrive here to-morrow.

Theo. Hanson, stevedore foreman, ran amuck to-day with a loaded revolver. What might have been a terrible tragedy was barely averted. Hanson, who is a peaceable, quiet man when sober, became wild and threatening after drinking freely at saloons. He told everyone he met of a fancied grievance against a prominent stevedore, and was apparently hunting for his supposed enemy with a revolver in his hand. At the Sunnyside corner he fired a shot at random, and Councillor McCartney of North Vancouver, who was passing, narrowly escaped. At the Gold house barber shop he fired at his own reflection in the mirror, and was seized immediately after and held until the police took him in charge.

WESTMINSTER.

NEW WESTMINSTER, Feb. 2.—In connection with the restoration of the Coquitlam bridge, Reeve Kelly and Councillor Keary have gone to the Capital to interview the government.

The promised very large development operations in the Cariboo and Horsefly mines are taking definite shape, and the McGillivray Pipe Works have started the manufacture of pipes for these mines.

The Cunningham Hardware Co. have gone into liquidation. The business is being sold as established and in running order.

John Wilson has purchased the machinery and stock of the Currie Iron Works, assessed at $19,000. It was sold for $5,000. The book debts were sold at nine cents on the dollar.

NANAIMO.

NANAIMO, Feb. 2.—Coroner Davis resumed his inquiry into the death of B. Belloni, the miner killed on the 25th inst. in No. 1 shaft while experimenting with a new explosive. The principal witness was James Fitzsimmons, maker of the new powder. The explosive basis of it was, he said, potash. He had used it himself in a gun and in coal, finding it to do satisfactory work. No nitro-glycerine oil or acids of any kind were used in the preparation of this powder. With regard to the amount of friction or concussion required to set it off witness said he had had no experience of anything of the sort since he first tested it, and he considered it was perfectly safe. The component parts of the powder are sulphur, flour and potash. He had been experimenting with it for some six months. Witness owned that his knowledge of chemistry was slight, gained from his own reading and experiments.

W. McGregor, recalled, was asked what in his opinion caused the powder to explode. He said, in reply, that he had come to the conclusion from the evidence adduced that the explosion had been caused by concussion. He thought that some of the loose powder had lodged in an irregular spot and been struck by the tamping bar. The court adjourned to take the evidence of John Duca, injured at the same time. He, however, could throw no light on the matter. After considerable deliberation the jury returned the following verdict: "We find that Baptiste Belloni came to his death by the premature explosion of a new explosive, which we considered was misrepresented to the officials of the New Vancouver Coal Co."

MEXICO AND GUATEMALA.

Both Parties Have Their Troops on the Frontier—War Very Probable.

CITY OF MEXICO, Feb. 2.—Mexico is still sending troops to the frontier. From general gossip it looks as though President Diaz may be handicapped by his cabinet on account of finances, but Guatemala still stands on her original proposition. Mexico has so far apparently ignored clause 4 of the treaty of 1882, calling for arbitration, consequently Guatemala and other members of the reputed federation of Central American republics ignore the treaty of 1887. Guatemala has between 10,000 and 12,000 troops on the frontier. The opinion seems to prevail among foreign legations here that unless Guatemala recedes there will be a declaration of war.

Don Jacinto Castellanos, Salvadoran minister to Mexico, continues to deny that a Central American alliance has been formed. Rumors were current last night that war had been declared, but these replies are indignantly denied by the official organs. On the contrary, these organs say, a telegram has been received from Guatemala practically conceding all the points in dispute. Three thousand troops are concentrated at the Acapulco town, close to the Guatemalan line, and more are massed at Comitan.

GUATEMALA, Feb. 2.—It is safe to state now that there will be no collusion between the several Central American states against Mexico. Last October a meeting was held at which representatives were present from Honduras, Nicaragua, Salvador and Costa Rica, but no definite steps have been taken here to formulate such an alliance. Over fifty arrests have been made within the past few days of persons, among them, it is said, being military officials accused of conspiracy against the government.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

Things Generally Look Better on the Bellef in a New Treasury Loan.

Failures Much Less Important Than Had Been Apprehended—Henry Clew's Opinion.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—R. G. Dun & Co. say things look better near the close of this week, because it is believed that a new loan will be negotiated. There was need for relief, since January closed with the heaviest exports. The failures during the month of January have been much less important than were apprehended, and the aggregate liabilities for 24 days have been $10,685,060 against $25,811,340 last year, only $2,479,193 being of manufacturing concerns against $9,124,562 last year, and $8,165,267 of trading concerns against $14,758,263 last year. The very heavy decrease, particularly in the manufacturing failures, will attract attention. The failures for the past week have been 354 in the U. S. against 370 last year, and 54 in Canada against 52 last year.

Bradstreet's say the uncertainty as to the outcome of the financial situation based upon the rapid withdrawals of gold from the treasury has had a depressing effect on general trade. In the province of Ontario the snow blockades have checked trade, and at Toronto the collections are slow but prices firm. Montreal reports a fair request for groceries, dry goods and hardware. The bank clearings at Winnipeg, Hamilton, Toronto, Montreal and Halifax aggregate $18,013,000 this week, a decrease of 2.5 per cent. from the preceding week, an increase of 7 per cent. compared with the same week a year ago.

This was a day of waiting in Wall street, speculators not being desirous of any lines, pending news from Washington in the matter of a bond issue. Assistant Secretary Curtis has returned from Washington, but up to the close of the market had not put in an appearance at the sub-treasury, and officials thought the chances were against his coming down town during the day. The impression on the streets is that he was in consultation with the representatives of the foreign bankers at one of the up-town clubs. Little information of a reliable character was, however, to hand, and speculation suffered in consequence. In the absence of definite news some of the parties were disposed to take profits, and a rather irregular market resulted. There were some firm features, however, notably sugar and distillers. The total sales were 78,146 shares. Closing bids: Atchafson & Santa Fe, 0; Burlington & Quincy, 72; Canada Southern, 49; Canadian Pacific, 51; Central Pacific, 13; Chicago, Cincinnati, Columbus & St. Louis, 38; Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, 162; Erie, 10; Lake Shore, 13; Louisville & Nashville, 52; New York Central, 100; New York & New England, 30; North American Co., 3; Northern Pacific, 3; Northern Pacific, preferred, 16; North Western, 90; Oregon Navigation, 10; Oregon Improvement, 10; Pacific Mail, 22; Reading, 10; Rock Island, 31; St. Paul, 56; Union, Pacific, 10; Western Union, 87; bar silver, 60 cents to 60 1/2 cents per ounce.

Henry Clews in his Wall street circular of January 26, says that business in Wall street remains dull, though prices for first-class mortgages, yielding about 4 per cent., are quite steady. The strong feature of the market lies in the fact that there are so few weak holders, and that the owners of stock regard securities as intrinsically cheap at current quotations and therefore will not sell except at an advance upon present prices. This country must recognize gold as does England, France, Germany, Austria and Russia as the money standard, and should put the word gold in future bond contracts by legislative enactment. There is very clear evidence of progress in the public comprehension of the nature of our financial difficulties. It is seen that the bank currency question is only indirectly connected with the Treasury question; and that the Treasury question has two distinct branches, one relating to deficiencies of revenue, and the other to the retention of gold in the Treasury, each of which requires distinct methods of adjustment. The gold reserve is the most acute disease and will perhaps prove the latest to yield to treatment. It cannot be finally remedied until the banks feel at liberty to resume their former methods of paying out gold, and there are reasons to hope that some means may be ultimately devised by which the obstacles at this point can be overcome. Light is dawning; and the way out of our embarrassing situation is becoming daily more visible.

CONGRESSIONAL AMENITIES.

Breckinridge, of Kentucky, and Heard, of Missouri, Indulge in Wordy Warfare.

Bedlam Temporarily Let Loose—One Blow Struck But No Blood Shed.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—A scene of the wildest and most intense excitement occurred in the house yesterday growing out of a personal difficulty between Representative Breckinridge of Kentucky and Representative Heard of Missouri. One blow was struck, when friends interposed, and the sergeant-at-arms arrested the two offenders and brought them to the bar of the house, where Breckinridge, in the course of an explanation, practically challenged Heard and demanded personal satisfaction.

Heard, who is in charge of the District of Columbia business, cut off Breckinridge, who was attempting to address the house on the Hawaiian resolution, by demanding the previous question on the adoption of the resolution. Breckinridge immediately moved around from the side of the aisle in which he was standing to the centre of the seats where Heard was located, and hot words followed. Breckinridge protested against what he called Heard's rudeness. The latter declared he was only doing his duty. As the voices rose, members rushed thither.

"Impertinent puppy," shouted Breckinridge.

"Liar," hissed back Heard.

At this word the white-haired Breckinridge, who is a heavily built, stocky man, put his foot on the step on which the benches are located and let drive a right-hand blow at Heard. Heard, who is slight and apparently not strong, but a rather tall man, with brown beard streaked with gray, dodged. In an instant a dozen hands were extended to separate the men, and the members swept them twenty feet apart. But Breckinridge continued to struggle and wrestle with his captors.

The house and galleries were in an uproar. Bedlam had broken loose. Over it all the cracks of the speaker's gavel sounded as he attempted to quell the riot on the floor. In firm tones the speaker directed the sergeant-at-arms to arrest the offenders. Col. Ike Hill, the deputy, and his assistant, Mr. Robinson, grabbed the silver mace, the emblem of the house authority, and rushed up the aisle. It was crowded with a seething mass of members. When they had elbowed their way to the scene of combat, Breckinridge was still struggling with those who held him. His antagonist, Heard, stood calmly in his place. Misunderstanding Pence's attempt to quiet Breckinridge, who was trembling like an aspen with overwrought excitement, Col. Hill and his assistant seized both Breckinridge and Pence. "Not Pence," shouted a dozen members, "Heard." Heard was pushed into the hands of the deputy sergeant-at-arms. As the two men came together Breckinridge made a desperate effort to free himself.

"You are a coward and scoundrel," he yelled at Heard, but the stalwart Robinson roughly pulled Breckinridge forward, and the two representatives of the American people were hustled, rather than escorted, to the bar of the house. The speaker ordered all to take their seats. Many of the members did so reluctantly.

"Take it back," shouted Breckinridge, as he glared at Heard, who stood, himself in custody, before the bar.

"You called me an impertinent puppy," answered Heard.

Meantime the speaker was driving the excited and frantic members back with heavy blows of the gavel upon his desk. Breckinridge was appealing for recognition, but the speaker would not hear him.

Apologies having been offered on both sides and explanations made, the wordy combat ended, and no motion for reprimand being offered business was proceeded with.

FIRE IN A HOSPITAL.

A Faithful Nurse Who Loses Her Life in the Defence of Others.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 2.—The Deaconess' home on Jennings avenue was burned yesterday and four persons perished. The fire started in the basement, presumably from the furnace. The building was a wooden structure, three stories high. In an incredibly short time there was little left of the building but a few parts of the side walls. The flames had gained considerable headway before the persons located on the top floor discovered their perilous position. It was then too late to descend by the stairs, and those on that floor gave up their lives.

Before the fire department had arrived, and before the flames had reached the outside of the building, Minnie Baumer, one of the nurses, appeared at an upper window and implored those below to assist her in getting out her patient, William Allmeyer. All saw it would be folly to attempt to enter the building, which was now burning fiercely. "Jump to the porch and save yourself," they cried. "I can't leave my patient," was the reply of the brave woman as she turned to look back into the room to quiet the fears of Allmeyer, who thought she was going to leave him. For a moment the nurse stood looking down into the crowd below her, and the sense of duty triumphed over her desire to be saved. The smoke was pouring from the windows about her, while her startled face appeared as a picture in a frame of darkest ebony. She returned into the room and was seen no more until her blackened form was carried tenderly from the building shortly afterward.

Aroused by the smoke, James Ehret, one of the patients, groped his way to the side window on the second floor and waved his hand to those outside. His signal was seen and two men secured ladders and placed them to the windows. Ehret started to climb down, but lost his hold and was caught by those below. Four men were taken from the burning building. One was caught in a blanket. The four corpses were taken from the building before they had been consumed by the fire. Jacob Krause was found at the foot of the stairs leading to the third floor. He had been suffering from a fractured skull, and was suffocated. Wm. Allmeyer was suffering from a broken hip, and was also suffocated. Minnie Baumer, the nurse who had remained to guard him, was found terribly burned at the foot of the bed. In an adjoining room was found the body of Walter Clark. The four bodies were placed in a dead wagon and taken to the morgue.

"THE GLAD TIDINGS."

Return of the Missionary Schooner from the Northwest—News by the Way—Fatal Accident.

Rev. Mr. Pierce, the Methodist missionary who accompanies the Gospel schooner Glad Tidings on her trips up and down the coast, reports that on the recent cruise from Port Simpson, which was left on January 7, 36 different religious services were held on shore, the natives professing anxiety to hear more about the glad tidings, which some 2,000 of them heard through addresses, aided by magic lantern illustrations. Mr. Pierce says that there is, within 300 miles of Victoria, a wonderful field for home missionary work, the expenditures upon which would be far better repaid than are the thousands of dollars annually disposed of in China and Japan. In many of the villages potlaches were being held, upon one of which two young chiefs spent over $5,000. In another Mr. Pierce was invited to the marriage of a chief, which was attended by the accustomed Indian performances, among them a friendly sham fight conducted on the principle that the more blood there was shed the happier the parties would be. Blood flowed freely, sticks and stones being liberally used to secure the desired results. At one of the villages only six persons attended the service, the rest of the men, women and children being on a protracted spree at the cost of $6 a bottle for whiskey. The party on board the Glad Tidings were heartily welcomed by Rev. Mr. Swartout, the Presbyterian missionary at Uclulet. No special sickness was reported among the Indians, whose health is good. The schooner is here to take on supplies and will remain for about a week, during which it is probable that the missionary will deliver one or more lectures.

Capt. Hackett of the schooner Annie C. Moore is putting up a store at Ahousat, where, according to a letter brought down by the schooner, a shooting accident occurred on the night of the 24th. Two Indians, half brothers, named Jack and Quasat, went deer hunting. They separated and Jack mistaking his brother for a deer, sent a ball through his head, instantly killing him. The sealing schooners Annie C. Moore, Oscar and Hattie and C. D. Rand are at Ahousat seeking hunters, who are holding their accustomed jubiliations before starting on their journey. The Triumph and Sapphire reached Clayoquot on the 26th and are on the beach being cleaned.

LONDON, Feb. 2.—The Daily News learns that the Queen will meet Emperor Franz Joseph at Cape Martin during her Southern trip.

The Panama government forces have defeated the revolutionists in the State of Tolima, capturing three hundred prisoners.

The steamship Tauric arrived to-day. The captain reports that fire in the ship's hold was discovered on January 30. The fire was extinguished with some difficulty. The fire was caused by an electric wire. The body of the electrician was found in the hold. He had been suffocated while repairing the wires.

The French chamber has passed Deputy Millerand's motion that a commission be appointed to investigate ex-Minister Reynal's conventions with the Orleans railway and the railways of the South. The vote stood 290 for and 236 against the motion.

In the debate on the anti-revolution bill in the German Reichstag a centrist member moved to amend the paragraph relating to the glorifying of crime so as to make it apply to duelling. Conservative speakers insisted that duelling was part of the existing code of honor, was good for society, and could not be abolished. Herr Auer, social Democrat, said it was the code of brawling, not the code of honor. Herr Nibberding said that the government originally had intended to have the paragraph apply to duelling, but had abandoned the idea because no gratification of such practice had yet occurred. The motion to amend was adopted by a vote of 14 to 13.

THE CITY.

THE Planta injunction motion was yesterday adjourned till to-morrow morning.

THERE was the usual interested audience at last evening's Y.M.C.A. concert. A stereoscopic entertainment and good music made up the programme.

A PUBLIC meeting has been called for Tuesday evening, at the city hall, to discuss the relative advantages of the day labor and contract systems.

THE commission sale rooms of Messrs. H. Cuthbert & Co. are crowded with furniture and other effects to be sold at an unreserved sale on Tuesday, Feb. 5.

THERE will be an auction sale of fine china and lacquered ware, furniture, etc., at Pily & Co.'s establishment, 40 Yates street, at 11 a.m. to-morrow morning.

SANITARY Inspector Conlin in the police court yesterday charged Messrs. Carlos Bossi and J. W. Carey with neglecting to comply with the provisions of the sewerage connection by-law. The information was remanded until the 6th instant.

THE band of the B.C.B.A. will give a concert at the drill hall next Saturday evening, presenting a choice programme of classic and popular music. As a special attraction Prof. Dugay will give an exhibition of rope walking. The concert is for the benefit of the band.

In the city police court yesterday Benjamin Hilton was convicted of malicious injury to the property of Mrs. Mary Vigelius, of which he was a tenant. He was fined $10 and ordered to make good all damages, one month's imprisonment being the penalty in default.

REV. G. C. KING will read a paper on Association before the members of the Young Men's Literary Institute of the Church of Our Lord, which meets in the parlour of the school room, Humboldt street, at 8 p.m. to-morrow. A general invitation is given to young men to be present.

YESTERDAY was a Chinese field day in the city police court, the result of the raid on the fan-tan tables the previous night. The nine prisoners were all charged as lookers on, and each was fined $20 and costs or in default one month. Seven of the prisoners paid the assessment; Lee Yung and Ah Fook went to jail.

MR. L. H. HARDING and Miss Fannie McKenley have been united in marriage and are now receiving the congratulations of many friends. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Solomon Cleaver in the presence of a numerous company gathered at the house of Mr. Robert Foster, Work street. Mr. Moody and Miss Myers acted as groomsmen and bridesmaid respectively.

THE dancing party at the Assembly rooms that was to have come off on Tuesday evening has been postponed until a later date. It was suggested that it would be a good idea to give a dance while the handsome decorations remained up and the floor was in good condition. The programmes, tickets and music had all been promised; but it has been decided to give the dance a little later on—perhaps before Lent. Yesterday the decorations were being taken down and the furniture returned to the friends who had given the use of it.

At a meeting of the committee on tuberculosis, which was held in Victoria on the 1st February, the following resolution was passed: "That this committee respectfully requests all agricultural societies and persons interested in dairying to furnish the secretary with such information and advice as may be thought serviceable and pertinent to this investigation, and that a copy of this resolution be handed to the press." All communications on the subject should be addressed to the care of the Department of Agriculture, Victoria.

THE following excellent programme has been prepared for the entertainment to be given in St. John's school on Tuesday evening: Pianoforte solo, Mrs. D. R. Harris; song, Mr. Roberts; recitation, "A voice from the bush," Miss Nonie Powell; song, Mrs. Harris; comic song, "Sister Mary," Mr. Wallace; instrumental selection (guitar and mandoline), "Amour Constant," Mrs. Harris. Mrs. Powell, Mrs. Barnard, Mrs. Shaw, and the Misses Powell, Carr, Jenns and McFavish; refreshments; song, "An old garden," Miss Agnew; duet, "Morning," Mrs. Rowlands and Mrs. Janion; song, Miss Russell; guitar solo, Mr. Agnew; comic song, "Mulligan," F. Richardson; song, "For all Eternity," Mrs. Janion; and song, Mr. Rowlands.

THE complimentary concert tendered Mr. W. Edgar Buck by his pupils and friends has brought numerous offers of assistance, enabling the beneficiaries to compile a most attractive and diversified programme for Tuesday, February 12, in Institute hall. In addition to various songs, etc., by favorite vocalists, Miss Laura Agnew will sing, in costume, the "Shadow Song" from "Dinorah." Miss Dawson will contribute piano solos, Mrs. W. M. Chapman will sing, by special request, the "Staccato Polka," which created such a furore at the recent Pacific Club concert, several of the best numbers from the "Meeting of the Nations" concert will be repeated, with additional effects; Mr. Buck will be heard in an operatic duet, an English song and a favorite gipsy trio with Miss Jameson and Mrs. D. SPORTING.

The Nanaimo Hornets Defeat the Wanderers of Westminster—A Good Game.

NEW WESTMINSTER, Feb. 2.—(Special)—The Hornets of Nanaimo and the Wanderers of Westminster played Rugby in the senior series to-day at Westminster. The Hornets gained the advantage in the toss, and played down hill. As the ground was covered with snow this was a great advantage. The visitors went at it with a rush, their furious play together with the advantage of the down grade proving too much for the home team. The oval was in Westminster's twenty-five during the entire half, and before time was called, the boys from across the Gulf had scored a goal and two tries to nil.

In the second half the Nanaimo team was strengthened by judicious changes, but though the visitors exerted themselves manfully to add to their score they did not succeed, the Westminsters holding them in check until time was called. The Westminsters put up a splendid game but were not strong enough in outside play. All the backs of the Nanaimo team played exceptionally well, particularly Quine and M. Woodburn. The Westminster forwards were exceptionally strong in scrum.

SHIPS AND SHIPPING.

Return of the Thistle With Halibut—Steam Colliers for Nanaimo.

Movements of San Francisco Steamers—The Wrecked "Wrestler" and "Crown of England."

The steamer Thistle, Capt. Langley, arrived yesterday afternoon from the Northern fishing grounds with a large shipment of halibut. Capt. Langley reports moderate but foggy weather up North. Just before leaving the fishing grounds he spoke an American gasoline schooner, which had secured a cargo of fish and was about to start for San Francisco. It was the schooner's initial trip and she had obtained in the neighborhood of 75,000 pounds of fish, an amount similar to that of the Thistle.

On the arrival of the halibut it was at once transhipped, the City of Kingston taking two car loads to go East over the Northern Pacific railroad, and the City of Puebla carrying another large consignment for San Francisco, where a good market exists. A small portion of the cargo was kept to supply the local demand. On the way home the Thistle called at Alert Bay for the mail and there received Mr. Spencer as a passenger for Victoria.

OUTWARD AND INWARD.

It was quite late yesterday morning when the steamship Walla Walla got away to the Sound. The ship was late in arriving from San Francisco, having been detained on her voyage by adverse winds. Her freight and passenger lists for Victoria were small, the former comprising but 53 tons. The steamship City of Puebla, which was also in port yesterday on route to California, carried away as saloon passengers: Mrs. Rendall, W. H. Rendall, B. Ponard, H. Ponard, Rev. J. H. Turner, A. L. Rogers and Mrs. P. C. Lutz.

THE "CROWN OF ENGLAND."

The California Iron and Wrecking Company have entered into a contract with the London Salvage Company to wreck the Crown of England, but it is said the former company has the lion's share of the arrangements. The wreckers have saved all that is of most value, and now the hull is to be cut up and the iron shipped to San Francisco. It is estimated that there are 2,000 tons of iron in the ship and that it will take six months to get this stuff out and transport it to San Francisco.—S. F. Call.

BARKENTINE "WRESTLER"

The owners of the barkentine Wrestler have a peculiar plea to present to Congress. The vessel went ashore at Victoria and her owners sold her to parties in British Columbia. By passing into the hands of English owners the vessel became a British barkentine. Now Kennedy & Ingalls, of San Francisco, have bought the Wrestler and they want her reconverted into an American bottom.

MARINE NOTES.

The German bark Artemis, 1,484 tons, Capt. Klock, arrived at Vancouver from Mexico yesterday. She will receive lumber at the Hastings mill for the West Coast, Messrs. Cates & McDermott having the contract for loading her.

The Norwegian steamship "Peter Johnson," which has been chartered to replace the wrecked Crown of England in the coal business, passed up to Nanaimo yesterday to load cargo for J. Rosenfeld, San Francisco. The steam collier Minola passed up en route to Comox from San Francisco yesterday to load a return cargo of coal.

It is Capt. Nickerson, not Nicholson, who commands the quarantine steamer Erie.

The Deadly Price Lists

The conflict still goes on; but it's of mind, not of muscle. In business, like in life, only the fittest may survive. The lists of to-day are not those surrounded by an excited and vociferous populace, but rather those whose bounds are the confines of a province—the deadly but silent Price Lists.

PUBLIC SCHOOL EDUCATION.

TO THE EDITOR:—The recent controversy upon the interpretation of a religious matter that a teacher thought fit to place before the children, opens up for consideration the propriety of history being taught at all in a system confined to secular education, more especially as the history of our country bristles with epochs pregnant with religious contention that if elucidated may give offence, and requiring if taught at all, to be taken up so tenderly, and touched with such care, as not to admit of its being efficiently dealt with. If there be any truth in this representation, would it not be better that in the future history should be left out, and our public school education be limited to what in common parlance is called the "three Rs"?

The plain fact is, that it is only a matter of time, and that a short one, before the increasing expense of our public schools will make it imperative. There is a very general feeling expressed in our streets, although public men and perhaps the newspaper press do not care to moot such an idea, but the present elaborate system of public school teaching is more than is required, and in many instances instead of fitting, serves rather to unfit, and that consequently the rudimentary system involved in what is called the "three Rs" is all that is incumbent for the government to provide, inasmuch as it is adequate to enable the rising generation to fight the battle of life, and if the high school be retained it should be self-supporting. W. K. B.

TAXATION.

TO THE EDITOR:—I read with great interest an admirable letter in your paper of Sunday last upon Taxation, signed by Mr. Howells. But the letter stopped short just where I hoped it might go on. It was so well and lucidly expressed, and so logical in its arguments, that I was all attention for a clear exposition of a single tax upon land values for the Province of British Columbia, and how it would meet the requirements of general expenditure.

I certainly think it is a subject which deserves serious consideration, because there are many thinking men of considerable ability who boldly maintain that a single tax would undoubtedly meet all the requirements of public expenditure, and would be the only fair tax upon society.

The avowed object of the single tax advocates is to raise all revenue by a tax upon land values, and that it shall be so imposed as to reduce the selling value of land to zero, so that for want of purchasers or holders in fee simple it shall pass into the hands of the state, which would become the landlord and would receive into the public revenue a rent, or single tax, from the land.

What I am anxious to know is how this system could be applied to British Columbia, and what the effect of it would be upon rents?

The population of British Columbia, excluding Indians, who do not come into the question, may be taken roughly at 65,000, and of these we may say that the cities comprise 44,000, making Victoria 18,000, Vancouver 16,000, and New Westminster and Nanaimo each 5,000.

This would give 44,000 as the population of the cities and 21,000 for the rural districts.

According to statistics we find that the revenue from all sources which is required by the province is as follows:

Domestic duties	$1,189,413
Customs duties	182,871
Minor revenues	16,316—$1,388,639
Provincial government, say	1,000,000
Rural municipalities, say	10,000
City municipalities—
Victoria	$330,000
Vancouver	350,000
New Westminster	76,000
Nanaimo	40,000—796,700

Total revenue required, $3,205,339. This gives a head for 65,000 of $49.33.

Then for Dominion taxes, $20 13 do. 44,000 population for cities' taxes 18 10

Therefore the 44,000 population of the cities would have to provide out of rents of real estate:

For the Dominion 44,000 x $20.13 = $885,720

For city revenue, 44,000 x $18.10 = 796,700

Total, $1,682,420

Equal to about $38 23 annual rent for every man, woman and child—in the cities—but to this must be added the proportion of provincial taxes which the cities pay, which will bring the rent for each person to approximately $40.

Taking Victoria as an example we find the value of real estate estimated for assessment for property tax at $15,000,000. Therefore on the single tax system this real estate would have to be taxed annually to the tune of $1,682,420, or something over 10 per cent., instead of half of 1 per cent. as at present.

When we turn to the rural districts we find a population of 21,000, which has to give as rents $1,522,910.

If we allow one-third of the population as producers, by delving in the land, it is a liberal estimate and we know that, with mechanical help, one man can cultivate fifty acres of land in the year, therefore if the rural population of 21,000 did its duty to society it would cultivate annually 350,000 acres of land, and this land would have to pay in rent to the state $1,522,910, or about $4.35 per acre as annual rent.

Of course there are rural townships to be taken into account, and the increased value of the land as town lots, which would reduce the $4.35 per acre rent, but even if we took off $1.35 per acre for such deductions it would still leave $3 per acre as the annual rent the farm land would have to pay to the state.

I may be wrong in my figures, as I have only gone into them approximately, but it seems to me that $3 per acre would be more than farmers would feel inclined to pay for the use of their land?

I want more light upon the one tax in order accurately to CUM TUX.

EXPERIMENTAL FILTERS.

TO THE EDITOR:—My attention being called by the letters in your issues—viz., February 1 and 2—to the experimental filters now on exhibition in the fire hall, Pandora street, I personally examined them and found a rather curious display of engineering talent. Evidently our city engineer favors upward filtration and its advocates, or why should he take so great pains to construct the upward filter in a manner that will give it full advantage of water pressure and use such visible ingenuity to detract from the water pressure in the downward filter. If Mr. Wilnot is not too proud to take plain advice he will remove the air-tight tops from both filters. Or does he imagine the proposed filter beds at Elk Lake will be covered with air-tight tops? Let him place the overflow pipe at the top of the downward filter, as it should be, and give each system a fair show. I write this with no prejudice against Mr. Wilnot, but could not see such a one-sided exhibit, intended as a practical test of the two systems, at the expense of the ratepayers, pass without comment.

PRACTICAL RATEPAYER.

THE EXPERIMENTAL FILTERS.

TO THE EDITOR:—Mr. Wilnot, in his letter which appeared in your issue of the 2nd inst. in reply to a letter of mine which you kindly published in your paper of the day before, informs your readers that "the premises of the writer are all wrong; his deductions therefrom need no comment." With this remark, which, by the way, is merely an equivocation, and with your permission, Mr. Wilnot shall not so easily get rid of the subject. If the pressure on the upward filter is not now directly derived from the water in the barrel, as it did at the first experiment, there is still a certain amount of head in the pipe and funnel arrangement lately introduced, which head is no circulation of the water; this is self-evident and needs no further elucidation. Here we have some evidence that in the new arrangement adopted Mr. Wilnot has profited by experience. I still maintain that there is a syphon action in the overflow pipe of the upward filter which gives it an advantage over the downward one, to say nothing of the overflow syphon in the latter, which tends to impede the free entrance of the air to the top of the filter.

If Mr. Wilnot intends to make the test a fair one let him remove the tops from his two boxes, so as to freely expose them to the atmosphere as they would be in large filter beds, remove all his syphons, useless and misleading paraphernalia, and deliver his supply water at precisely the same level above the top of his filter beds, and for his long syphons let him introduce short, straight pipes of sufficient area. This change (shall we call it number three plan?) would not be a costly one, and I think your readers will agree with me a great improvement over either numbers one or two.

Victoria, B.C., February 2, 1895.

MRS. EFFIE W. MERRIMAN.

A Deservedly Popular Fiction Writer of the West.

Mrs. Effie W. Merriman, whose latest book, "Mollie Miller," will be welcomed by all the young people to whom she has endeared herself, is a born story teller. She has always written for the mere pleasure of doing so. As a child she was a dreamer, lightening the monotony of household tasks with the companionship of the people of her imagination. Even as she washed the dishes the knives and forks were grouped into couples that played a part in her childish game.

Born in 1856 in Hyde Park, Minn., the daughter of a farmer who had left New England to try his fortunes in a new country, she had little in the way of advantages. Her power as a story teller began at a very tender age, and a good example of it is given when she was only 7 years old. She compelled a playmate to listen to a ghost story much against her will, the young narrator pursuing her hearer through her father's cornfield, shouting the denouement as she went into her companion's unwilling ears.

The force of character that proved her equal to greater emergencies in later life was manifested at the age of 16, when she taught her first school. Twenty of the 63 pupils were older than she and had proved too unruly for previous teachers to manage. She established her authority by bringing a big boy to submission and was a successful teacher afterward.

Though it was her cherished ambition to earn enough money as a teacher to attend a good school, it was never realized. The money she had earned and saved went to pay the doctor, and it was only by special study after school hours that she managed to obtain a fair common school education.

Her first appearance in print was when she was 15. A little story for children won the second prize offered by the New York Tribune. She said nothing about it at home, but her father praised the tale so highly when it was discovered that her mother, fearing she would be harmed by so much flattery, went to the other extreme, and the result was that the literary aspirations of the ambitious girl were rudely checked. Years later, after marriage, in order to enliven the monotony of a prairie farm, she began sending letters to the country paper, which elicited much praise and curiosity as to their authorship. She wrote stories at this time also, but it was not until one Christmas, when she especially wanted money, that she offered them for publication. The words of her mother had such a lasting effect that she has always underrated her ability. The first substantial encouragement was from General A. B. Nettleton, who urged her to persevere and offered to help her become a writer.

Owing to ill health and the necessity of being near medical aid, the farm was given up, and her home has since been in Minneapolis, where she has been editorially associated with The Spectator and The Housekeeper. She has recently established in that city a new domestic monthly publication which is meeting with success.

Mrs. Merriman has written a number of serials and short stories, but she is especially happy in stories for children. "Pards," "A Queer Family" and "The Little Millers," constituting the Street Arab series, and "The Conways" are all popular among young readers. Fond of nature, imaginative, enthusiastic, tender hearted and sympathetic, with high ideals, she is well adapted to be a writer for children. Those who know Mrs. Merriman best believe that her best work is yet to be done.

FASHIONS IN SHOES.

EVERY MATERIAL EMPLOYED FROM SEALSKIN TO SUEDE.

Yellow Shoes Are Banished by Well Dressed Women When Winter Comes—Sensible Walking Boots of Calfskin—Patent Leather and Suede Slippers—Strap Shoes.

"A well dressed woman is known by her shoes and gloves," is a saying on which most women have been brought up. By this saying is not meant merely good boots and gloves, but boots and gloves appropriate to the occasion and costume and fitting to perfection. With athletics and the fad for all outdoor exercise has come the sensible, broad soled, flat heeled walking boots. Long walks are now not so much to be dreaded when the feet are well shod. The most fashionable as well as useful shoe for all practical purposes is a light weight French calfskin, which must be kept blackened and polished like men's boots. It is made generally on what is known as the English last—that is, with broad soles and pointed toes and low, round, broad heels. It must fit comfortably, but as most of the leading shoeshops keep this style it does not of necessity have to be made to order. Some women cannot wear the very heavy soles, nor the heavy weight of calfskin, and therefore all grades are to be had. For those who cannot wear calfskin at all a shoe is made on the same lines of the heavier kind of kid.

Patent leather shoes and boots with pointed toes are considered more dressy and are worn with more elaborate walking costumes. Patent leather boots with cloth tops or kid tops are very much the style for wear for receptions with velvet and silk costumes. They are made with rather higher heels, but are on the same last, with broad soles and pointed toes. Buttoned and laced shoes are equally worn this season. Some of the very oute shoes, which are made to look as manish as possible, have a long vamp, and only come up as far as the ankle, and have only six buttons of large size. This fashion suits some few women, to whom tailor made costumes are becoming.

To look into the closest of one of the fashionable women of today is surprising. The number of boots, shoes and slippers she requires would be difficult for her country cousin to believe. Each and every one is on its wooden tree as carefully polished and in order as can be. The whole thing looks very masculine, but it is not to be sneered at, for there is no disputing the fact that they keep their shape and wear far better when all this care is taken. Seal skin, with patent leather trimmings, is one of the newest fashions, but it is really too heavy looking to be very smart, and only from its oddity is effective. Of course it is only used in walking boots.

There are two or three apparently immaterial changes in the styles of shoes this season. The pointed tip has given place somewhat to the square. Of course this does not apply to the toe of the shoe, which is as pointed as ever, but has to do with the stitching of the patent leather or calfskin.

All ball gowns now have the slippers made to match, generally of satin, although it is quite the thing to take a bit of the brocade or whatever the dress material may be to one's bootmaker, so there shall be a perfect match. These slippers are made very pointed and with high heels. Patent leather slippers made like boys' pumps are quite smart for house wear. They are tied with narrow black silk ribbon, exactly as a boys', but have shorter vamps. There is nothing that makes a woman's foot look better than a black patent leather slipper pump and a black silk stocking embroidered in horizontal lines of color. Patent leather pointed slippers, with long vamp and tongue, which come far up on the instep and are there tied in a big bow, are exceedingly smart and most becoming to the foot. The back of these slippers is of black suede. They are not considered suitable for full dress, but with a house dress, tea gown or simple dinner dress, are very desirable.

The light and suede slippers, finished only with the tiniest of steel or rhino pebble buckles and worn with tan colored stockings, are still in favor, and, according to the New York Herald, authority for the foregoing, are permissible with light blue and light pink evening dresses, particularly when gloves of the same shade of suede are worn. Bright red slippers and stockings to match look well with black gowns and give a touch of color that is very good.

WARD McALLISTER.

Something About the Late Director-in-Chief of New York's Four Hundred.

Ward McAllister was a third-rate New York lawyer, of good family. He was prominent in society, and made himself especially valuable in the management of balls and dinners, accepting fees for his services. He set himself up as an arbiter on dress and etiquette, and grew to be looked upon with reverence by the aristocrats of New York city, many of whom are persons of no culture, as is natural in an aristocracy based on wealth. McAllister was hardly known until he was interviewed a dozen years ago by the New York World. He consented to be represented as saying a great number of ridiculous things; among others, that New York society included only four hundred persons. The World made great fun of him; turned Bill Nye loose on him, and let Bill call him "a large, mouse-colored ass"; printed caricatures of him by McDougall representing him as having large ears and as leading a herd of 400 stupid-looking persons. McAllister was a thrifty man; he turned his fame to account, as Bill Nye did his bald head, and made money out of it. He published a book, "Society as I Have Found It," which had a large sale, and he wrote a letter each week for the Sunday World. For his World letters he was well paid, and they gave him the greater part of his income. He might have been compared to a circus clown who stuck his painted face through a hoop and grimaced to the crowd.

He was the World's fool, and wise men read his letters and were amused by them. Once Ward McAllister announced that of the "four hundred" in society only 150 were on top, but this fell flat. The 400 joke never lost its popularity. Songs were written about it; farce comedies put on the stage, in which McAllister was caricatured. To this day it is good slang to speak of "the 400," meaning the leaders of society. Of late years McAllister had fallen a little in the rear as the ruler of society. Owing to the ridicule heaped upon him, some of his former admirers were afraid to follow him too closely, lest they might share his notoriety.

Samuel Ward McAllister was born 64 years ago in Savannah, Ga. He prided himself upon his Southern birth and the length of his ancestry. His ancestors were great leaders in the time of Washington. For eighteen years he lived in Savannah. With his seventeenth century ideas of social exclusiveness, he acquired the knowledge and belief which eventually controlled the doors of metropolitan society. Leaving Savannah, he settled in Newport, R. I., and made the fashionable popularity of that place. He was a leader of modish folk by nature and training. He was graduated from Yale and went to San Francisco in the fall of 1852. Western life, which was then crude, did not satisfy him, and after practicing law with Hall McAllister, his brother, he came East and married Miss Sara Gibbons, a lady of wealth and good position. Then it was he settled in Newport. He dressed quietly, always in dark clothes, invariably wearing a huge hat and outway coat and overgaiters in the street. The Astors, Chandlers, Samuel Ward, Marion Crawford, Julia Ward Howe, the Boston Appletons and Princesses, the Paterson Bonapartes and the Massachusetts Parkers were all his relatives.

BACK FROM ALASKA.

Steamer "Mexico" Reports Great Satisfaction With the Prospect of a Canadian Road into the Yukon.

SEATTLE, Feb. 2.—Steamer Mexico, Capt. Carroll, arrived from Alaska yesterday. She brought down a small lot of freight and a few passengers, and on her arrival at San Francisco will be tied up. On the down trip she met the City of Topeka, which has been put on the run regularly, at Wrangel, and transferred crews, the regular crew going on the Topeka and the extra crew bringing the Mexico back.

Judge Warren Truitt was a passenger on the boat, and will probably remain here several days. H. McCauley, one of the party who have been surveying the boundary line between Canada and Alaska; Frank Clancy, and Edward Holden, who has been mining on the Yukon for several years, were also passengers.

A trail will probably be made soon by the Canadian government from Taku inlet, about fifteen miles south of Juneau City, to the head of the Yukon river. Miners throughout Alaska are very much elated over the prospect of the road being built. Reports state that the halibut fishing season is beginning well, and several good catches have already been made.

The residents of Juneau and vicinity are much exercised over the present rate war that is being waged between the Pacific Coast Steamship Company and the Chilkat and are fearful that it will be the means of bringing a large number of worthless fellows to that country who will become a burden upon the community.

THE LAST OF THE BUFFALOES.

Wyoming to Take Steps to Prevent Their Extirmination.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Feb. 2.—The only band of buffaloes in existence, outside of the Yellowstone park, is on the Red desert, northwest of Rawlins. There are probably sixty or seventy-five head in the band. A bill for the protection of these animals has been introduced in the house. Violations of the law will be punished by imprisonment in the penitentiary for not less than three or more than ten years.

MURDEROUS ASSAULT.

A Chinaman Attacked by His Fellow Countrymen and Almost Beaten to Death.

Charlie Sing, a fairly well-educated Chinaman, was attacked about 12:30 this morning, when leaving the Chinese theatre between Cormorant and Figgard streets, by six Chinamen, receiving severe injuries. His assailants used iron bars and knuckles, and in addition to beating his face into a jelly, one of them struck him on the back of the head with a heavy weapon, almost fracturing his skull. The police were soon on the spot and took the injured man to the station, where Dr. Geo. Duncan did everything possible for him. The Doctor could not by a cursory examination say how serious were the injuries received, and the wounded man was taken to the hospital. It is alleged that the attack was instigated by the Highlanders' society, who suspect Ling of interfering with their plans. Sergeant Haxton and a squad of police officers were searching for the assailants at the time of going to press and expected before daylight to locate some of them.

THE YUKON COUNTRY.

Prospects of Its Being Opened Up to British Columbia and Canadian Trade.

Importance as a Market—Looking to the Dominion for Means of Development.

(From the Alaska News.)

With bright winter weather and bright prospects, Juneau has the world by the tail, and is wagging the industrial centres until a general rush is made for our growing trade.

Wm. Ogilvie and party, sent out by the Dominion government from Ottawa, are at present surveying the route via the Takou river and pass, and will return to Juneau in March or April in time to send their report back before work is resumed on the boundary line.

Both the Provincial and Dominion governments of Canada have been taking active steps of late towards perfecting plans looking to the establishment of a route or road connecting the seaboard with the vast area in the Northwest Territory which embraces the northeastern part of the Yukon basin.

Gus. Olson, James Curwen, Henry Jones and Co. Smith have taken a contract from the Newell Gold Mining Company to extend a tunnel on the Grand Hog mine 300 feet north of the boarding house. It is now in 70 feet and will be pushed ahead until it taps a ledge of ore up the hill. The snow is not deep in the basin, and has not drifted much, and the snowfall is below the average of other years up to date.

The far-seeing merchants and business men of Juneau already realize that Juneau's supremacy as the metropolitan, mining centre and principal trading mart of Alaska, depends in a great measure upon the establishment of the Takou route. So far the Canadian government solely has shown a disposition to build a road by this route, and hence it is natural that the people of Juneau are favorably disposed towards the project. If a route should be constructed across the range, via Chilkoot or White Pass, there is a great possibility of the steamers going direct to Dyea, and in that event the trade and travel would be deflected from Juneau. In our dire extremity this community has to look to the Canadian government for aid, a contingency which makes all American residents dissatisfied and ashamed of the fact the government's indifference to its territory continues from year to year.

Mr. Edwin Goodall, secretary of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company, before leaving put into effect a tariff reduction on the freight and passenger traffic between Juneau and the other ports. The fares between Juneau and Sound ports are: Cabin, $40; steerage, $20. To San Francisco—Cabin, $55; steerage, $27.50. To Sitka—Cabin, $12; steerage, $7.50. To Wrangell—Cabin, $10; steerage, $7.50. The tariff rate on freight from the Sound ports and San Francisco has been reduced 20 per cent. for those signing a contract to ship all their freight over the line. Besides this there is a rebate of a certain per cent. regulated by the amount of freight shipped during a year. The lowest rebate is 7 per cent. for $250 of freight for a year, or $62.50 or over for the quarter; and the highest 20 per cent. for $6,000 or over of freight for a year, or $1,500 for the quarter. The rate increases per centum proportionately with the increased amount of freight shipped.

(From the Alaska Searchlight.)

That the British (Canadian) government has determined to do something in the direction of building a trail from the coast to the headwaters of the Yukon river is demonstrated by the surveying expedition which is now pushing its way up the valley of the Takou over the Chilkoot pass, and that another trip will be made going in by the valley of the Chilkat and returning over Moore's pass or, as it is otherwise known, the White pass. The British government evidently intends to make itself familiar with each and all of them before any trail building is undertaken. Could the British government establish its claim to the headwaters of Lynn Canal there is little doubt but that such a trail would start from Chilkat or Chilkoot, but in case the United States maintains its possession of this part of Alaska territory the Canadian government will doubtless favor the Takou trail if the survey proves that it is at all practicable. It is very probable that a new town will spring up on Canadian soil if a trail should be built by them. There are many reasons for such a conclusion; vessels could land freight and passengers at a point beyond the boundary line, which they cannot now approach within forty-five miles, thus saving time and expense for the miner; British vessels would do the carrying trade and land British goods at a British custom house. There would be more sensible liquor regulations and goods desirable for the interior trade could be taken in without duty. It is only a question of a short time, if a good trail be opened, when there must be business enough to support a good sized town. The merchants of Victoria understand this matter thoroughly, as they have had years of experience with similar business enterprises, and will urge upon their legislature the necessity of opening up the interior so that they may control its trade in supplies and transportation, receiving in return Yukon gold and the furs of the interior. No matter where nor by whom the trail is built, the residents of the valley of the upper Yukon will be materially benefited.

The valley of the Yukon may be reached from Juneau by four different routes, crossing the coast range of mountains through as many passes—the Dyea or Chilkoot pass, the Chilkat, Moore's or the White pass, and Takou. As the Chilkoot is the only pass used to any extent it is this route the miner will select. From Juneau to the summit of the Chilkoot pass is a distance of 115 miles. Small steamers ply irregularly between here and Dyea, the head of navigation, a hundred miles northwest of Juneau. During the early spring these boats usually sail a day or two after the arrival of the mail steamers from the Sound. The trip in good weather is made in twelve hours if there is no towing to be done and the regular fare is ten dollars, each passenger furnishing his own blankets and provisions. If the party is a large one with considerable baggage a scow is loaded with the miners' outfit, if the tides are high the boat scow goes over the bar at the head of Douglas island thus saving nearly twenty miles of travel besides avoiding the rough waters of the Takou. If the tides are not high the scow may be towed over the bar by the little tug Julia, and the steamboat will take its course around the lower end of Douglas. In rounding the point of the island the vessel is often subjected to the fierce winds which sweep the valley of the Takou river. If there is a strong north or north-west wind, like a demon it comes roaring out from the Takou, lashing the waters into foam in its rage and tossing volumes of spray clear over the top of Grand Island. When the steamer has come around to the head of the island it takes the scow in tow and in about twenty hours from the time of leaving it enters the mouth of the Dyea river near Chilkoot, the salt water journey is ended.

BROOKLYN'S STRIKE.

Withdrawal of Troops Followed by a Series of Petty Assaults and Attacks on Cars.

BROOKLYN, Feb. 2.—The withdrawal of all the soldiers last night was succeeded by a series of petty assaults and attacks on cars. A few scalps were cut, one nose was broken and a large number of car windows were smashed. There is no truth of the report of a man's death in East New York last night. No wires were cut last night. President Norton and Supt. Quinn of the Atlantic avenue trolley road, were held on bail for violating the ten hour law.

At the strikers headquarters to-night Master Workman Connolly still insisted that the men who left the employ of the various railroad companies nearly four weeks ago still have a chance of being re-instated. Policeman Farley, on duty on a car of the Meeker avenue line of the Brooklyn Heights railway was thrown to the street to-night and received injuries which necessitated his removal to the St. Catherine's hospital.

The friends of Henry Ahern, who was shot by the militiamen several days ago and received injuries from which he died, are about to commence action against the city of Brooklyn and Mayor Schieren for damages.

This afternoon a car of the cross town line was held in Williamsburg by a crowd of 300 strikers, the motorman and conductor being carried away by the mob. The police were unable to cope with the crowd until the reserves arrived, when the crowd dispersed.

U. S. FINANCES.

London Financial Firms Agree to Take Part of the New Bond Issue.

Treasury Statement for January—Gold Reserve Slightly Increased—Shipments of Bullion.

LONDON, Feb. 2.—The Standard says: "A United States currency loan will not be taken by the public here and ought not to be taken."

Renewed representations in behalf of the United States government have been made to prominent London financiers in effect that a bill would be brought in for a satisfactory arrangement of the currency as soon as possible after the assembling of the next congress. In the meantime it was represented that the government could only issue 4 per cent. bonds, of which a large portion would be taken in New York. London firms have promised to take part of this issue, but their takings will be much less in the aggregate than those of the United States. The London purchases of these bonds, the agents say, they expect will amount to about $25,000,000. It is stated that the firms in London which have agreed to take the bonds are the Rothschilds, Morgans and Raphaels.

Baron Rothschild is reported to have said regarding his reported connection with the proposed American loan: "It is untrue that any negotiations are pending with us. Neither has the house of Rothschild any intention of taking the whole loan."

New York, Feb. 2.—A total of $5,050,000 of gold was ordered yesterday for shipment to Europe, but on the lowering of the rates for sterling exchange in the afternoon $3,500,000 of the orders were cancelled.

WASHINGTON CITY, Feb. 2.—A treasury statement shows the receipts from all sources during the month of January to have been $27,804,399, and the expenditures $34,532,447, a deficit for the month of $6,719,481, and for the fiscal year of $34,282,070. The several items of the receipts during January were: Customs, $17,361,917; internal revenue, $9,034,963; miscellaneous, $1,407,518.

The official report from Assistant U. S. Treasurer Jordan, of New York, shows that although $1,257,500 had been withdrawn from the sub treasury yesterday, $1,800,000 in gold coin had been returned for currency, which was received with much satisfaction and surprise. It is not known, however, whether this deposit of gold is the forerunner of others in fulfillment of an agreement between the bankers and treasury officials. It is believed in some circles that the deposit was made in the ordinary course of business for currency to be shipped to Western corporations. By yesterday's transactions the gold reserve was slightly increased, standing at the close of business at $42,860,020.

WILL THERE BE WAR?

Mexico and Guatemala Want to Fight, But It Seems Scarcely Politic for Either.

CITY OF MEXICO, Feb. 2.—The tone is calmer here to-night, but the position is still wholly uncertain. It is generally felt that Guatemala is not financially able to pay a large indemnity. Moreover, an agreement to pay an indemnity would ruin President Barrios politically. Hence it is claimed that war must ensue unless Mexico foregoes a large portion of her claim. The negotiations have reached the critical point, and a public declaration of Mexico's intentions is daily expected. Meanwhile the ministers here are still silent and no two papers agree as to the real position. The opinion among the foreign diplomats, however, inclines to the belief that war will be avoided. The San Salvadoran minister, Jacinto Castellanos, was cordially received by the President this morning.

GERMANY'S SUGAR INDUSTRY.

The U. S. Tariff Policy Gives a Great Impetus to the Business in the Fatherland.

BERLIN, Feb. 2.—The repeal of the American sugar differential duty on imports from countries giving bounties has given a great impetus to the German sugar business. Sugar company shares rose quickly the moment the decision was known. President Cleveland's message on the financial situation in the U. S. has been printed at length in most of the German newspapers and has elicited much editorial comment. The Frankfurter Handel's Zeitung says that the Rothschilds of Vienna will suspend their Austro-Hungarian currency reforms until the project of an American loan shall have taken definite form.

Time, 27 seconds. Five miles—J. S. Johnson, Minneapolis, won; Jno. Neilson, 2nd; Rudd, 3rd. Time, 15 11 1/5.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—The main topic of discussion among politicians last evening was the announcement yesterday of Senator Lexow that the majority of his committee had made up their minds to amend their bill so as to place the power of appointment of three commissioners to take charge of the reorganization of the New York city police department in the mayor's hands instead of the governor's. Public sentiment ascribes to the committee and "agreement to amend" as due mainly to the discovery that the people of New York are in no temper to be trifled with, and that Senator Lexow and his coadjutors were wise to get out of the way of the popular lightning.
